Working with Vikki meant we got to relive the early days of our relationship, and put every memory, song and poem that we found to be so special into our Wedding Day. We've since had many compliments on the ceremony, and how it was so unique and a one-of-a-kind adventure. Vikki truly is a woman of many talents, and we can't thank her enough!

Emma & Reece

I'm Vikki, and I'm a super friendly, bubbly, charismatic (and modest) award-winning modern Humanist Celebrant based in the North West.

I love what I do. I've always had a passion for people and story-telling, and your ceremony should never be 'the boring bit', it should be the brilliant bit - after all, it's the biggest part of your big day. I will put the 'you' into your wedding and ensure that your ceremony is as unique as you are. Every person there will know what makes the two of you tick by telling your story exactly how you want it to be told, and developing a ceremony that includes the things that are special to you.

Adept at creating joyful, unique, happy-tear-filled ceremonies, my professionalism is an asset to any wedding or celebration. I am based in Lancashire, but able to act as a celebrant for you anywhere in the North.

I'd love to get to know you and discuss how I can create your dream ceremony.

Why Your Ceremony Will Be Special

It's All About You

No two couples are the same, so why should your wedding be? I will get to know you both and write a personal ceremony that tells your story and put the YOU into your wedding.

Truly Bespoke

There's no limitation on content, and total flexibility on when and where you have it. So if you want a modern, traditional or funny ceremony (or a combination of all of these) then get in touch. I am here to give you ideas and inspiration for your wedding ceremony. The choices are endless, and they are all yours, so you can curate your perfect day.

What's the difference between a Celebrant and a Registrar?

The main differences are choice, flexibility and personalisation. With a Celebrant you can have your ceremony exactly how you want it, you get a totally bespoke ceremony without restrictions, (a registrar is restricted by legislation and has a limited script with limitations on what can be included). Registrars will carry out a number of ceremonies each day so they will insist on keeping to the short designated time slot. You won't know which registrar you are getting until the day itself and you won't meet the registrar prior to the day of your ceremony.

I get to know you both and work with you to craft a beautiful, bespoke, ceremony that reflects your ideas, values and personalities, and you have total flexibility over content and format. I have loads of resources for my couples too, from reading suggestions to symbolic additions, to help with writing vows.

If you have a Celebrant ceremony you will need to complete the legal aspect of getting married separately. This is a very simple process and you don't need to exchange rings or vows when you do it. In the simplest terms think about your birthday - that's the day that everyone gets together and has a party every year - no-one celebrates the day your parents went and registered the birth (I would be surprised if you actually knew when that day was).
